In collaboration with Marcus Beuter

Our collaboration started in Armenia in February 2012 by a recording work on Iranian poetry. We then worked in Switzerland on the sound and voice project Urban Interventions with the musician Dominik Grenzler. This recording will be released on the netlabel Etalabel in spring 2013. In fall 2012 we created two short experimental films based on live stories, Autoportrait and Marco.

In parallel we develop a work on voice and laptop improvisation. We place the human experiences at the core of our respective works, through collecting live stories, tales and sounds. We place the listening and the silence as an ethic of relationship to others. These shared values and wishes gave birth to our collaborations and led us to the elaboration of this project.
